

East Coast Equine Staffing News

ECEVS has experienced a transition in staff this Spring. We would like to welcome our new staff members to the practice!

Dr. Andrea Butterfield has recently joined our practice! Dr. Andrea is originally from Virginia. Her family moved to Texas when she was a child. She earned her Bachelors Degree in Animal Science from Texas A & M University. While pursuing her degree, Dr. Andrea worked as a seasonal technician for an equine racetrack practice. Upon graduation, she relocated to the Northeast to pursue her veterinary degree at Cornell University. After graduating with her DVM degree, Dr. Andrea completed a one-year internship at Tryon Equine Hospital in Columbus, NC.

Dana DiFazio is the newest addition to our Administrative Team. Dana attended Centenary College where she earned a Bachelor of Science Degree in Equine Studies with a concentration in equine science and a minor in business management. Dana joined the East Coast Equine team in March 2015 and is excited to be a part of the ECEVS Team.

Michelle Enman is one of two new Veterinary Technicians. Michelle grew up in Vernon, Sussex County. She earned her Associate's Degree in Equine Health and Complementary Therapies. In addition to her Associate's Degree, Michelle earned certifications in Horse Shoeing, Equine Massage, Equine Acupressure, and Equine Aromatherapy. Michelle is currently enrolled in Penn Foster's Veterinary Technician Associate's Degree Program. She has 17 years of horse experience and has worked for various farms in the area. Gabrielle Smith joined ECEVS in May 2015 as a Veterinary Technician. Gabby graduated from Centenary College with a Bachelor's of Science Degree in Equine Studies with concentrations in riding instruction and equine business management.

Dr. Alex Ciuffitelli is enrolled in the Medical Acupuncture for Veterinarians (MAV) program, which is partnered with the Colorado Veterinary Medical Association. Dr. Alex is expected to achieve her certification by November 2015. We look forward to Dr. Alex performing acupuncture for East Coast Equine. New Services at ECEVS

ECEVS has expanded our services to include Extracorporeal ShockWave Therapy. ESWT, commonly known as "shock wave" is a noninvasive, high-intensity, pressure wave treatment, which is commonly used in human and veterinary medicine. It helps the body in relieving pain, speeding healing and improving quality of healing. For more information about Shock Wave Therapy visit our website.

Nutrition Service coming September 2015

East Coast Equine has teamed up with Cargill and will be offering a Comprehensive Nutrition Service. ECEVS will offer hay testing and milled feed analysis to our clients. Based on the results of the forage analysis and information gathered about your equine's health and activity level, ECEVS will compile a customized nutrition program to meet your horse's individual needs. Contact the office for more information.

Sincerely,

East Coast Equine Veterinary Service
